

TIME FOR A MAIN STREET CONTRACT HEAL AMERICA / TAX WALL STREET

National Nurses United, the largest organization of direct care registered nurses in the history of the United States, is calling for a Contract for Main Street. We will be supporting the Main Street Re-Investment Act that will be introduced in congress soon.

To jump start this idea, National Nurses United will host rallies and speak-ups in 62 cities across the country on September 1, 2011.

Dayton's rally and speak-up will start with a Soup Kitchen at Democratic Headquarters from 11:30 AM – 1:30 PM followed by the rally and speak-up in front of Representative Michael Turner's Office at 2 PM.

I am asking that you spread the word and assist us any way you can. Come to the rally if possible to lend your voice. The basic tenets of the Main Street Contract are:

- Jobs at living wages to reinvest in America.
- Equal access to quality, public education.
- Guaranteed healthcare with a single standard of care.
- A secure retirement with the ability to retire in dignity.
- Good housing and protection from hunger.
- A safe and healthy environment.
- A just taxation system where corporations and the wealthy pay their fair share

Americans need to be in the streets demanding that those who are able to pay their fair share do so NOW!

Tell us where it hurts. Send your stories to: www.mainstreetcontract.org and we will share those stories with legislators in Washington, DC.
